Welcome to the Hudson Valley Exposition!

Dear Friends,
Welcome to the Hudson Valley Exposition! This year, we are celebrating the 50th Anniversary of Woodstock with our amazing musical line-up. Kiss The Sky will have a very special guest, Juma Sultan, the original percussionist who played with Jimi Hendrix at Woodstock, performing with the band. In addition, Lisa Polizzi's Janis Joplin Experience and Stone Flower, The Santana Tribute, will transport you back a half century with their Woodstock vibe.

One of the reasons why we all live here is to take advantage of everything our beautiful Hudson Valley has to offer—entertainment, food and beverages, amazing recreation and natural beauty. The EXPO proudly gives us the opportunity each year to showcase everything we have to offer against the backdrop of the Hudson River.

Deb Milone

The Exposition and Fireworks are presented by the Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce with the generous support from Entergy, D. Bertoline & Sons, City of Peekskill, Ginsburg Development Co., Fidelis, New York Presbyterian Hudson Valley Hospital, 100.7 WHUD, and Continental Building Products.

I want to give every volunteer a big hug for generously giving us your time. I also want to take this opportunity to thank and congratulate the Chamber's very own Lauren Brady who manages the Exposition from start to finish.

If you like the EXPO, there are many other events that you can enjoy all year long, just log onto www.hvgatewaychamber.com and check out our calendar.

I hope that all adult attendees graciously give the suggested $10 donation at the gate. The cost to put on an event of this size is monumental and we can only continue the Exposition if we ask for and receive an entry donation from those attending.

No tax dollars are used to put on the Expo. In fact, we pay the City of Peekskill for the use of the park, police overtime and trash removal—we rely on the donations and sponsors to cover these inherent costs—so that we can present this family- and community-focused event.

Where else can you go, spend $10, and get an amazing music line-up, kids zone, and spectacular fireworks display? Thank you for your anticipated generosity. Enjoy!

OVER 30 YEARS OF RENEWABLE ENERGY

To develop, deliver and realize the potential of clean energy. At Wheelabrator, that's our vision.

The Wheelabrator Westchester energy-from-waste facility provides dependable, environmentally safe disposal of up to 2,250 tons per day of everyday household and business waste for Westchester County. The waste is used as local fuel to generate 63 MW of clean, renewable electricity, enough power to supply the electrical needs of 67,000 New York homes as well as our own operations. Wheelabrator Westchester also recovers over 12,000 tons of ferrous and non-ferrous metals every year that would otherwise go to a landfill, directly reducing both greenhouse gas emissions and the need to mine for raw materials.

At Wheelabrator, we work hard to make a positive difference every day for our team, our customers, and our communities. We have pride in the service we have been providing to the Westchester community for over 30 years, and continue to leverage our history, experience and integrity to drive operational excellence every day.

1945 and 2019 Hudson Valley Expositions: Then and Now

By Bill Powers

In August of 1945, in an effort to stimulate the local economy after the War, the then-named Peekskill Chamber of Commerce presented the Hudson Valley Exposition for the first time.

Originally held over three days at the Peekskill Stadium on Welcher Avenue (now where Peekskill Green Grocers is located), the Exposition was an illustration of the dynamic local economy and the booming future that lay ahead as World War II veterans returned looking to start a life and a family. Consumer demand spurred the economy.

The entertainment included dog acts, musicians, and horse and rodeo performances. Exhibits included household appliances, technology advancements and the new 1946 Buick. In many respects, the Exposition served as a mini-World's Fair of sorts with its "World of Tomorrow" Exhibit.

Local businesses were ready, too, for the consumers who wanted to get back to a normal life after the war. On display at the Exposition was Furniture by Tomlinson presented by J.J. Dorsey Inc., Seiberling Tires' new thermo-weld system sold at Lazar's, and "Woodco" window units and Gold Bond wall board by N. Dain's Sons Co. at 100 Water St—who are still at their family's location today. In fact, Dain's will be on hand doing saw mill demonstrations at this year's Exposition as they were last year.

Belmont Motors displayed two 1946 Ford Cars that were sold at a discount to veterans coming home from the war and Schulte-United took free pictures of all the children who attended the Exposition. the Girl Scouts offered child care.

The "Made in Peekskill" exhibits included Hy-Art Novelty Co. (display hooked rugs), French Veiling Corp. (the latest in hairnets), Charm Undergarments (feature newly-designed slips), Ednal Co. (lens and prisms) and Standard Brands (food products).

Fast forward 60 years: with a lagging economy, during the 2015 Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce 100th Anniversary celebration, the Exposition was re-introduced by the chamber to a whole new wave of residents.

"We wanted to showcase everything that makes the Hudson Valley so special—food, art, music, businesses, history and more. The best part is that we can feature everything against the backdrop of the majestic Hudson River—it doesn't get any better than that," said President of the Hudson Valley Chamber of Commerce, Deb Milone.

The Exposition promotes the benefits and bounty of living, working and playing in the Hudson Valley with a focus on art, music, trendy businesses, holistic/wellness, and energy and technology along with the best of the Hudson Valley's food, craft beer and wines.

All in all, the 1945 The Hudson Valley Exposition proved to be a rousing success and ran for seven years. The 21st Century version is now in its fourth year, and chamber organizers hope the event runs for many more.

Miss NY, Miss Outstanding Teen NY to Make Appearances at EXPO

Lauren Molella was crowned Miss New York at the Paramount Hudson Valley in Peekskill in early June. Molella returns to Peekskill for an appearance at the Hudson Valley Exposition to meet her admirers. She will be appearing alongside Miss Outstanding Teen New York, Sarah Lawrence. Molella and Lawrence will be available for a meet and greet at the WHUD radio booth near the Main Stage from 3 to 5 p.m.

At age 24, Molella is setting her sights on the Miss America crown, for which she will compete in September.

She lives in Millbrook, NY and is an instructor in the Physics, Biology and Psychology departments at Dutchess Community College.

The competition brought many people from across New York State to Peekskill for a full weekend of events.

"We are hopeful that the competition found its permanent home at the Paramount Hudson Valley and that they return next year. It's both an image and economic boost for the City of Peekskill to host such a prestigious and historic event here," said Bill Powers, Executive Director, Peekskill Business Improvement District.

Trinity Cruises Offering Discount Cruises to EXPO Patrons

Trinity Cruises will be offering cruises aboard the Evening Star exclusively for EXPO patrons.

Take a boat ride on the beautiful Hudson River during the Hudson Valley Exposition!

Trinity Cruises will be offering cruises aboard the Evening Star exclusively for EXPO patrons on their 4 p.m., 5:30 p.m., and 7 p.m. excursions.

Discount tickets are available for EXPO patrons. Children are $8, seniors are $10 and adults are $12.

Cruise attendants will meet those going on board the Evening Star at the EXPO information booth prior to departure and guide guests to the boat launch.

"This is a great opportunity to get out on the Hudson River and see the Expo from a totally different vantage point. It's also a great way to cool down if it is a hot day," said Deb Milone, President, Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce.

The Evening Star is a former United States Coast Guard Buoy Tender. After being decommissioned it was converted to a 36-passenger tour boat and operated on the Erie Canal for more than 10 years.

Since 2011, local residents and visitors to Peekskill have enjoyed the scenery aboard The Evening Star from a canopy-covered open deck.

Regularly scheduled cruises depart from Peekskill's Riverfront Green Park and cruise north to enjoy the dramatic beauty and rich history of the Hudson Highlands.

Milea Estate Winery Sponsors Free Wine Glass Painting

Milea Estate Winery is sponsoring a free wine glass painting at the Exposition this year. Any adult, 21 years of age and over, may paint one of the wine glasses, return later, and take it home for free. The wine glass is free and so are the paints. The painting of the wine glasses is overseen by a professional artisan.

The wine glass painting will be held under the gazebo from 1 to 7 p.m. or while supplies last, whichever comes first. Wine glass painters will place a ticket identifying themselves as the owner into their painted glass for later pick-up. Glasses must be picked up by 7:00 p.m.

"We are so appreciative of Milea's sponsorship of this complimentary wine glass painting, and we are equally appreciative of their attendance at the EXPO. Be sure to stop by Milea's booth and learn about one of the Hudson Valley's treasures," said Deb Milone, President of the Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce.

Wine glasses left behind will be donated to a local thrift store. Only one wine glass per person.

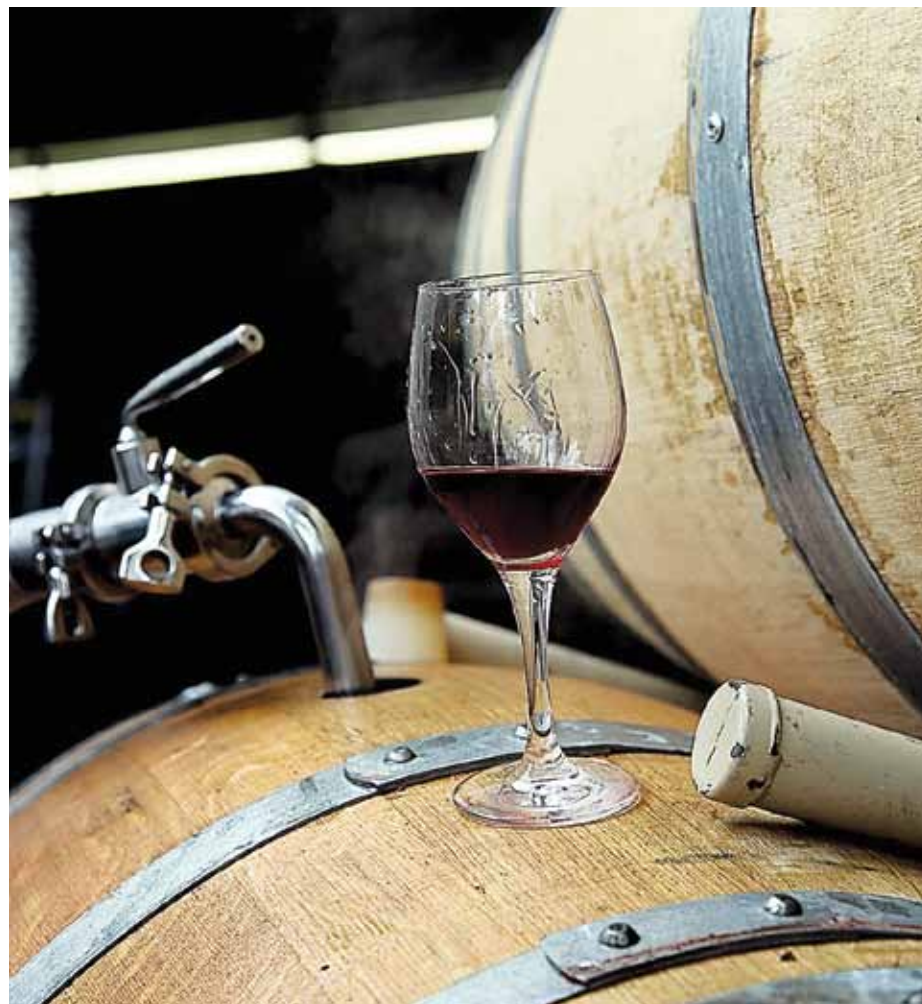

Milea Estate Vineyard is located in the heart of the fertile Hudson Valley, only 80 miles north of New York City, in Staatsburg, NY. The estate is nestled among the beautiful rolling hills to the east of the Hudson River and surrounded by streams, horse pastures, dairies, orchards and other vineyards – a rural bounty that places the Hudson Valley at the center of the nation's most exciting and diverse farm to table movement.

The soils, climate, and topography of the Hudson Valley are perfectly suited for fruit production, with the first vineyards in the region dating back to 1677. In 1984, Barry Milea and his father bought part of the Rymph Family Farm, a property that Barry fell in love with and dreamed of returning to its farming origins.

In the summer of 2015, after years of research and experimentation with the land, Barry Milea, Ed Evans and Bruce Tripp formed Milea Estate Vineyard. The first crush in autumn of 2015 resulted in award-winning wines, and Barry added adjoining land to the property in early 2016 for a 98-acre estate with some of the best soil and most beautiful landscapes in the country.

Milea Estate Vineyard consistently produces crisp, balanced and approachable wines that pair elegantly with food and are best shared with friends and family.

Kids Zone Offers Free Standout Activities for Kids

The Exposition has always been a family-friendly event, and this summer, we are partnering with Fidelis Care to present some outstanding activities for kids. And, best of all, these activities are free thanks to Fidelis Care.

"The Exposition is proud to partner with Fidelis Care to offer kids the opportunity to meet Simba and Nala from the Lion King, to traverse obstacles courses, and meet members of the NYC Football Club Street Team. In addition, the Chamber is presenting last year's favorite: the Bubble Bus returns to immerse kids in wave after wave of bubbles. It's so much fun!" said Deb Milone, President of the Hudson Valley Gateway Chamber of Commerce.

In addition, in the general vendor section, kids should stop by Rick Lee's Nature Awareness School booth to pet some unusual animals and the Second Chance Rescue NYC to meet adoptable dogs who are seeking their forever home.

Here is a list of the times and activities:

- 1 p.m. – 7 p.m. Face Painters
- 1 p.m. – 7 p.m. Bouncy House
- 1 p.m. – 7 p.m. Tropical Obstacle
- 1 p.m. – 7 p.m. EZ Dual Rockwall Slide

Jimi Hendrix 'Re-Experience' Band to Rock Stage at Expo

By Michael Giuliano

Fifty years after participating in the Woodstock music festival that shaped a generation, a living piece of music history looks to pay tribute to the now-iconic gathering.

Juma Sultan, a musician who played with Jimi Hendrix at Woodstock in 1969, will be making an appearance at the Hudson Valley Exposition alongside Kiss The Sky, a group known as a Jimi Hendrix "re-experience" rather than just a cover band. Led by guitarist Jimmy Bleu, Kiss The Sky takes a revolving stable of recording artists from the New York metropolitan area and brings them together to capture every essence of the original Hendrix spirit.

Not content to just play the same songs that made Jimi Hendrix a household name, the band is often decked-out in similar or replica clothes that the original band would have worn, and plays with identical instruments with similar amplifying effects to truly recreate the original sound. Bleu even trained himself to play guitar left-handed, behind his back, and with his teeth, all of which were signature Hendrix moves.

"To me, this is one of the most truthful versions of Jimi's music I've seen," Sultan said in an interview. "I've played with 'cover bands' who are good, but he [Bleu] is different. He is very charismatic and brings an original character to the music."

Sultan, a member of the Blues Hall of Fame, has been playing music since the early 1960's, when he started out primarily as a jazz musician playing the upright bass. After moving from his hometown of Monrovia, California, to New York City, he was fortunate enough to become acquaintances with Hendrix, as well as a slew of other talented musicians. After collaborating several times and strengthening their friendship, Sultan was invited to be a part of Hendrix's Gypsy Sun and Rainbows band, now playing percussion instruments.

Over the years Sultan has toured with other former members of Hendrix's band (each of them also having performed with Kiss The Sky), and is looking forward to performing for a large music festival called WE2019 in North Carolina in August. WE2019 is a two-weekend festival looking to recreate the magic from the original Woodstock concert, featuring eight artists who performed at the last concert 50 years ago.

"It can never be repeated or duplicated," Sultan said, talking about his experience at the Woodstock concert. "I experienced unity, brotherhood, and love, and that's something that's hard to bring out today. The spirit that prevailed there still lives, but it's dormant [now]."

The Hudson Valley Exposition takes place on Saturday, August 3, from 1 to 10 p.m. at Riverfront Green Park in Peekskill. The "Rockin' the Green" concert, celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the Woodstock concert, begins at 4 p.m. on the main stage. Visit www.hvexposition.com for more details.

The Town of Cortlandt

The Town of Cortlandt is a wonderful place to live and to raise your family. We have excellent schools, volunteers, low town taxes, emergency services, open space and parks, recreational programs and many terrific businesses and shops.

Supervisor Linda D. Puglisi
and Town Board:
Richard H. Becker
Debra A. Costello
James F. Creighton
Francis X. Farrell

Our community is surrounded by the Hudson River, waterfront parks, wooded hills and streams that define the suburban character of the Town of Cortlandt.

Just one hour from NYC by car or Metro North.

Come to Cortlandt to enjoy our lovely community in the Hudson Valley area of NY State.

It is a wonderful place to live, work and enjoy the scenic beauty of the region!
