Mahopac Junior
Pryzmylski Nets 5,
Including Last 2 in 15-14 Win over Fox Lane

Mahopac junior M Avery Pryzmylski (13) took matters into her own hands last Saturday when she scored five goals in all, including the last two in the sixth-seeded Indians' 15-14 come-from-behind Section 1 Class B playoff win over visiting No.11 Fox Lane, which played down three players for long stretches of the second half and failed to contain Indians Ava Jennings and Audrey Colucci, who scored three goals apiece. Indians Ally Savino and Nicole Panny both scored twice while Gigi Genovese had two assists and Pryzmylski, Colucci and Panny each had one assist. Fox Lane hung tough behind Emma Greene and Eugenia Kaltzas, who had four goals apiece. Fox M Quinn Alami had three goals and Alix Riley scored twice for the Foxes, who saw G Sophie Kathari (15 saves) come up big. G Taylor Jennings had 11 saves for Mahopac, which will play at No.3 Ursuline today in the quarterfinals.

No.1 Mahopac Knocks off No.16 Ossining in Class AA

By Tony Pinciaro

Following a Covid-impacted fall, winter and fall two high school sports' seasons, the spring season has returned to some sense of normalcy with the Section 1 playoffs.

Sectionals began in full force, Saturday, after a one-day delay because of heavy rain. The Examiner coverage boasts two of the top seeds -- Mahopac (Class AA) and Lakeland (Class A1).

Yorktown is seeded second in Class A1, Hen Hud (Class A2) and Valhalla (Class B) are seeded third and Byram Hills (Class A2) is a four seed.

The student-athletes were excited that there would be a spring season. The addition of sectionals makes it more noteworthy.

CLASS AA

"After missing out on all of last year, just being able to have a season this year was amazing, but being able to have sectionals is even better," said Mahopac senior and captain Michelle Dellamura. "We’ve all worked so hard to be here this year."

MAHOPAC, 16-1 this season, won its first-round game as Shannon Becker threw a perfect, perfect game with 15 strikeouts, including No. 1,000, in five innings as the Indians mercied Ossining.

Mahopac played No. 8 R.C. Ketcham, Monday, in a quarterfinal. A win would have propelled Mahopac into the semis where it will host the No. 5 White Plains- No. 4 Arlington winner, today. Ketcham and Arlington lost to Mahopac during the regular season, 2-0 and 3-0, respectively.

“I think facing a team you played once before has both advantages and disadvantages,” Dellamura said. “It’s easier in the sense we know the pitcher and the sequence of pitches she throws. It’s also tougher since they also know us and know our strong points and weak points.

“I personally believe it’s harder to beat a team the second time you play them. We need to definitely play our best in order to come out on top.”

If the seeds in Class AA hold true, the other semifinal will be No. 3 North Rockland at No. 2 Ursuline. The Class AA final will be held, Saturday, 6/12, at the higher seed. Mahopac is hoping to host it.

Mahopac was on its way to an undefeated regular season when Yorktown handed the Indians their lone loss, 2-1. No team likes to lose, but better in the regular season than experiencing your first loss during sectionals.

“Losing to Yorktown was devastating, but I do think a lot of pressure was taken off us.”

said Dellamura, who will attend Fairfield in the fall. “But, we were even more determined to do great. It made us want to win it even more.”

Dellamura and her teammate are looking forward to each step, especially after John Jay-East Fishkill defeated Mahopac in the 2019 Section 1 Class AA Championships semifinal.

“I think having confidence is going to be a key in being successful,” said Dellamura of winning the section. “We know how capable we are of succeeding and we need to apply what we know during the game.”

WHITE PLAINS received the fourth seed in the Section 1 Class AA Championships and premiered with an 18-0 win, in five innings, over No.13 FOX LANE.

Lakeland’s Hannah Matusiak and Hornets have secured top seed and were set to host Class A-1 quarterfinal game last night.

White Plains’ Darla Palombo delivered some hefty swings in 18-0 Class AA playoff win over Fox Lane Friday.

runs and drove in five. Palombo had two hits, including a home run, and collected four RBI.

Zoe Kovach had two hits and Amanda Lemark and Kiersten Hardy each scored twice and had two RBI.

Eight-grader Serena Gillen continued her excellent season, throwing a two-hitter with nine strikeouts. This was her seventh shutout of the season.

Prior to sectionals, Fox Lane closed out the regular season with a 9-3 win over rival Horace Greeley.

Hannah Gettman finished with a three-hitter and did not allow an earned run. She also had two hits, including a run-scoring double.

Sam Sanchez had a home run among her two hits, Sydney Hurvitz had a double among her two hits and an RBI and Adriana Piccolino recorded two hits.

Fox Lane finished with an 8-9 record, after its sectional loss to White Plains. However, Fox Lane coach Anthony Rodrigues is looking forward to the future.

“We have a very young, promising nucleus returning with seven starters who are freshmen and sophomores,” Rodrigues said.

CLASS A-1

LAKELAND went 14-2, including 6-0 in its league, during the regular season, earning the top seed.

The Hornets drew a first-round bye and played No. 8 Rye, Monday, in a quarterfinal. A win sends Lakeland into the semis against the No. 5 Eastchester-No. 4 Harrison winner, Wednesday. The other half of the A1 bracket has Yorktown seeded second and Saunders third. The A1 title game will be played at the higher seed, Saturday, 6/12.

The A1 winner will play the A2 winner, Sunday, 6/13, at Arlington for the overall Section 1 Class A title.

The Hornets enter sectionals on a six-game winning streak. They closed the regular season with a 3-0 and 10-3 doubleheader sweep of Hen Hud.

In the 3-0 victory, Stella Bale tossed a no-hitter and struck out 16. She also helped herself with two hits, including a home run, scored two runs and drove in a run.

Lakeland was upset in the 2019 Section 1 Class A final by district-rival and 11th-seeded Panas. Senior Hannah Matusiak was a starter on that Lakeland team so she opportunities to play in sectionals has her excited.

“Being able to have full-fledged sectionals this year means so much to the entire team,” said Matusiak, who will attend Franklin & Marshall this fall and play softball. “With all of the Covid stuff going on, we weren’t sure we’d have a season. As a senior that was really upsetting, but once we heard the good news, we were ecstatic.”

Matusiak and her teammates understand the pressure of being the No. 1 seed, but they view it as a challenge.

“Since we’re the first seed, people have high expectations for us,” Matusiak said. “That puts a lot of pressure on the team, but it also makes us play harder.

“Winning the section title would be such an amazing way to end my high school softball season. It will make us closer as a team and give us an unforgettable memory. It would also be great to make history on the new field by winning the first year it’s being used.”

YORKTOWN, like Lakeland, earned a first-round bye.

The Cornhuskers (15-3 this season) hosted No. 7 Clarkstown North, Monday. A victory would move Yorktown into the semis, Wednesday, against the No. 6 John Jay-Cross River-No. 3 Saunders winner.

No.8 Rye eliminated No.9 SOMERS, 7-2, in the opening round. Tuckers Emily Stavola and Aimee Mastrociello each went 2-for-3 and knocked in the final runs of the season. No.6 John Jay knocked off No.11 BREWSTER, 9-0.

CLASS A-2

PANAS, the 2019 Section 1 Class A champions, began the Section 1 Class A2 Championship seeded sixth and with a 10-0 victory over No. 11 Nyack in the first round.

The Vikings, seeded third, hosted No.8 John Jay-Cross River-No. 3 Saunders winner.

Hen Hud received a first-round bye.

Senior Olivia Bordenaro, who was instrumental in Panas winning in 2019, struck out 16 against Nyack, including her 600th varsity strikeout. Bordenaro, who will attend Western Connecticut State in the fall and also play softball, aided her own cause with three hits and two RBI. Jaime Cardello, her battery-mate, had two hits, including a bases-loaded double.

Sam Kayo, Alex Moyer, Emma Guglich and Kaitzie Mera each had a hit and scored a run.

HEN Hud had a first-round bye. No.5 BYRAM HILLS, which was set to host No.5 Nanuet last night, crushed Sleepy Hollow, 15-0, behind a total team effort. Pitchers Alexis Conigliaro and Madison Nero allowed just two hits in the win.

CLASS B

VALHALLA began sectional play with a dominant five-inning mercy win, 17-0, over No. 14 Blind Brook.

The Vikings, seeded third, hosted No. 6 Tuckahoe/Blind Brook in a quarterfinal, Monday. If Valhalla won that game, it would play the No. 7 Albertus Magnus-No. 2 Rye Neck winner in the semifinal, Wednesday.

In the victory, senior Julia Serena registered her 100th varsity hit in grand fashion. Serena, who will attend Oneonta in the fall and also play softball, hit a home run.

“It was fitting that Julia’s 100th hit was a home run,” Valhalla coach Heather Kleinberger said. “She is a power hitter and has hit some of the hardest balls I’ve seen this year.

“Julia is a great player and a great leader and we couldn’t be happier for her. She deserves it 100 percent.”

Tanner Smith tossed a one-hitter and struck out 13. Emma Levine and Kathryn Wolfsbael had two hits apiece.

No.12 WESTLAKE advanced to the quarters after a dominant 13-1 win over YMA and was set to visit Dobbs Ferry last night. No.9 Hastings eliminated No.8 PLEASANTVILLE by a 5-2 count, and No.4 Dobbs Ferry eliminated No.13 BRIARCLIFF, 18-2.

Byram’s Alexis Conigliaro and No.5 Bobcats eased into the Class A-2 quarters.

Mahopac, Somers, Fox Lane, Greeley Move on in Class B

By Ray Gallagher
Examiner Sports Editor @Directrays

Many of the top guns in the Section 1 Class B tournament took the first round off last Friday, including No.1 Rye, No.2 Yorktown and No.3 Lakeland/Panas, which secured first-round byes after a stellar regular season campaign, as did Briarcliff in Class C.

In the opening round of the Class B tourney, fourth-seeded MAHOPAC dispatched No.13 Clarkstown South, 15-2 when the up-and-comers did a ton of damage, including sophomore Mike Rettberg (hat trick) and freshman Danny Koch, who added two goals and three assists for the Indians, who also saw sophomores Gavin Viglucci and Ryan Geoghegan score two goals apiece. Junior pole Sean Massett delivered one goal and one assist to go with two takeaways and a team-high six GBs. West Point-bound junior Mike Harney added a goal and two assists. Senior Matt Puckhaber (2A) and sophomore Jake Degnan (1G, 1A) and freshman John Kearney (1G, 1A) all had multi-point games for the Indians, who should return a ton of talent next season after setting the foundation in 2021.

The Indians were set to host No. 5 FOX LANE in last night’s quarters in what promises to be a whale of a game, with the winner moving on to the semis to face No.1 Rye, the reigning Class C champ, in all likelihood.

The Foxes cruised to a 17-2 win over No.12 Eastchester Friday when Everett Banks sent six between the pipes and set up another as the Foxes commanded a 10-0 edge by the end of the first. Banks has pumped out some major numbers this season (44G, 18A, 62P).

Jake Wollman added two goals and four assists for the Foxes while Will Shepherd and Matt Magidson each scored a pair of goals in the win.

No.6 SOMERS advanced to the quarters to challenge LAKELAND/PANAS, which is coming off a 10-day COVID-related pause. The Tuskers worked No.11 Harrison, 14-3 when Kieran Gill went for the hat trick. Lorenzo Sessa (1G, 3A) did the bulk of the feeding and padded his season-long numbers (44 points) while Jack Silverman and Ethan Krauss added two goals apiece. Henry Ellison (1G, 1A) had a multi-point effort for the Tuskers, who led 12-0 after three.

As good as the Tuskers looked, they will need to put their best foot forward against a Lakeland/Panas program that has won three of the last six Class A titles before moving down to Class B this season. Rebel Mark Cummins will likely get in senior M TJ. continued on page 7

No.10 GREELEY advanced to face No.2 YORKTOWN after a thrilling 12-11 overtime triumph of Clarkstown North when senior Jeffery Lungen swooped in on a GB and went top right with 39 seconds to play in OT. Previously, it was the Boden Bounds show for the Quakers, as the junior bagged five goals. Dylan Mutkowski finished with a hat trick while Dylan Zarr, Carter Meehan and Zach Eichenberg all tickled twine. G Sam Rosenberg (25 saves) was huge, including two soaks in overtime. Yorktown -- with its potent attack that features Dylan Beck (32G, 15A, 47P), Harry Griff (22, 23, 45) and Will Embury (23, 17, 40) -- should pose far too many problems for the Quakers to pull of what would be considered the upset of the decade.

John Jay ended No.8 BREWSTER’s season, 9-2. Josh Walsh and Jack Jordan each scored for the Bears.

CLASS C

In Friday’s opening round of the tourney, PUTNAM VALLEY won for the 10th time in a two, beating Ardsley, 17-5 Friday when senior M Ethan Mournier went for four goals and three assists, giving him 71 points this season. Cagey Tiger junior A Ryan Denike was serving the cheese all game long, dishing eight assists and scoring once. Denike (25G, 54A, 80 points) has had a monster year.

Andrew Dzybak finished with three goals and two assists while Jack Murphy added a hat trick for third-seeded PV, who was set to host No.6 Pearl River last night.

“We took care of business and advanced to the next round, which is what we were supposed to do,” PV Coach Tim Weir said. “It’s a special group of kids.”

Kapfer (2G, 3A) and Dean Hiltsley (2G, 1A), host Tappan Zee ended No.10 HEN HUD’s season by a 10-9 count.

Don’t look now, but BYRAM HILLS has a sneaky-good path to the Class B finals after an incredibly fortunate draw that has already seen No. 4 Edgemont knocked out of the playoffs, leaving the fifth-seeded Bobcats with a home game against No.13 Lourdes last night.

This particular bracket was made to be busted and should 2019 Class C runner-up Byram beat Lourdes (a given) and advance to the semis, they would likely see top-seeded Sleepy Hollow, which hasn’t posted what some would call a quality W all season. The Headless Horsemen will have a tough time knocking off No.8 Pelham in the quarters, much less the Bobcats, but this is how the brackets broke in 2021 due to COVID-19 and the elimination of playoff formulas.

Byram’s loss to Somers in the regular-season finale bumped the Bobcats back to No.5, which kept both Putnam Valley and No.2 Briarcliff on the opposite side of the bracket, giving the Bobcats a prime path to the finals.

Hayden Fruhling eclipsed the 100-point milestone in the Bobcats’ 17-2 win over Nyack in the opening round as the mighty Fruhling finished with two goals and six assists. Bobcats Michael Oronzio notched four goals while Gavin Javorsky and Benny Rakower each netted a trio of goals. Ben Weinhoff dominated the X, taking 19 of 24 draws.

Pelham eliminated No.9 Westlake, 11-1. Andrew Llamas scored for the Wildcats.

CLASS A

CARMEL, the No.9 seed, set up a Monday showdown with No.1 Mamaroneck -- the two-time reigning Class A champs -- after Ram senior M Ryan McDonald scored a career-high four goals in a 10-8 triumph of No.8 host New Rochelle; what was the first postseason win in Carmel history. Carmel freshman Matt Risley continued his fast-paced ascension with three goals and three assists and teammate Jimmy Lyons had three goals and one assist.

“The kids killed it today,” Carmel Coach Matt Caione said. “I can’t give enough credit to McDonald, Risley and Lyons, and our D-mids were sensational, including Will Kelly, Max Richardson and Jake Eilner. They were beasts today.”

McDonald will pass the torch to Risley in the hopes of having done his part to build a sustainable program.

“Going into the game we were super excited knowing it could be the first win in our history,” McDonald said. “It’s the best feeling in the world and was definitely one we’ll remember. This team really battled and showed who we are. We came together as one and got the job done. There is definitely going to be more to come from Carmel, don’t doubt that.”

WHITE PLAINS, the No.5 seed, was set to visit No.4 Suffern last night, hoping that leading scorer Ryan Ortiz (39 points) would have a big game.

Byram Hills’ Matt Quintiere takes the ball up the field in the fourth quarter of the Bobcats’ blowout playoff win Friday.

Byram Hills junior midfielder Benny Rakower, who scored three goals, fires a shot at the cage in easy playoff win over Nyack.

Any manager will tell you: It’s all about pitching, particularly in the postseason, and eighth-seeded WHITE PLAINS Manager Marcel Galligani would tend to agree after Tiger hurler Mark Kent, a senior right-hander, fired a tidy 1-0 gem in Saturday’s Section 1 Class AA opening-round playoff win over visiting No.9 FOX LANE.

In fact, PLEASANTVILLE Manager Dan Iorio would declare the same thing after Panther P Matthew Satriale, allowed just one run on two hits in seven innings as the eighth-seeded Panthers walked-off on No.9 CROTON-HARMON in a 2-1 suicide-squeeze-induced victory in the opening round of the Section 1 Class B playoffs.

In Saturday’s opening round, which saw teams like Class AA CARMEL cruise to an 18-run victory, it was efficient pitching that enabled White Plains, Pleasantville and several other locals to advance to last night’s quarterfinals. Here’s some recaps before it gets really interesting with the inclusion of Class A-1’s top-seeded YORKTOWN and A-2’s top-seeded WALTER PANAS in the upcoming rounds.

CLASS AA

Kent kicked off the White Plains’ playoff party by allowing just one hit and no walks while throwing under 100 pitches to go all nine innings. Galligani had some thoughts on young Mr. Kent, who hurled one of the most efficient outings the coach has ever seen from a White Plains pitcher, doing so against a terrific Fox Lane program, which has a coach -- Matt Hillis -- that teaches mashing like few in Section 1 history.

“This was by far one of the best outings we’ve seen at White Plains during my career,” the coach said of Kent. “It reminded me of our 2018 section 1 final game against Arlington where my kid, Gerigh Hauser, threw a nine-inning gem in a losing effort. Mark had it all working. He commanded three pitches and hit spots so... efficiently it was as if he was walking the ball up to home plate.

“Going in, we knew he had to be at his best as I know how well Matty’s team swings it,” Galligani added. “Fortunately, for us, he was. To throw less than 100 pitches in nine innings is remarkable and a testament to our infield and outfield play. They made all the routine plays.

“My heart broke for Matt, his staff and his players as nobody should lose such a competitive game like that, and I told him and his team as much afterwards. We’re hoping we can make them proud and handle business against Mamaroneck. It was one of the best high school baseball games I’ve been a part of and we’re fortunate to come out on top. I’ve been on the other end and know how much it hurts. They’re a storied program and will bounce back as usual. Unfortunately, a season only ends well for one team. It comes to a screeching halt for everyone else.”

The game’s only run came when Tiger Jake Dorchak was hit by a pitch with the bases loaded and two outs in the bottom of the ninth to plate freshman Derek Diaz, who singled earlier in the inning off Fox Lane (11-8) P Matt Antolino, who was superb over 8 1/3 innings, allowed just two hits, before yielding to the pen.

White Plains (13-6) was set to move on to No.1 Mamaroneck last night, hoping to bust up one side of the bracket, having split the regular-season series with their arch rivals.

No.4 CARMEL put the pedal to the metal in its 18-0 win over No.13 OSSINING. UConn-bound Carmel slugger Jack Sullivan waxed the Pride (5-14), going 4 for 4 while driving home six Rams, who saw All-Section HM Nick Montagna knock in five runs to support winning pitcher Matt Demme (4 scoreless). Sullivan upped his season-long BA to .524 and the Rams (16-3) have mashed a school record 21 home runs this season. Additionally, he’s 3-1 with a 1.71 ERA and 50 strikeouts on the hill.

Coach Joe Hackert’s Rams were set to host No.5 Suffern last night in what was continued on next page

Valhalla SS-P Jake Sekinski pitched all six innings, allowed three hits and struck out eight in 10-0 playoff win over Dobbs Ferry.

Ravi Dass had some huge RBIs and then came in for two innings and shut the door. The kid is electric. He does something special every time he’s on the field whether it’s with the glove, bat, arm or legs. Harrison was a great and classy opponent. I’m just glad we were able to get the W and move on.

LAKELAND’s two-year reign as sectional champs came to a halt in the ninth-seeded Hornets’ 4-3 loss to No.8 host John Jay CR after Lucas Orlovitz’s walk-off single to center. Lakeland (7-11) saw P Ray White finish as strong as he started the season, allowing two earned runs off seven hits. He whiffed six over six frames. Lakeland’s John Tuite went 2 for 3 and White and Joe Torres each drove home a run for the youthful Hornets, who squandered a 3-0 lead when Alex Samayoa crushed a game-tying two-run homer.

Sailor P Josh Shea worked six innings, scattering four hits in a 9-0 win over No.13 Louvdes to advance.

Nick Hilltsey, Shayne Naley had two hits apiece and Donovan Burras added three hits for the Sailors (11-8), who went old school Sunday to prepare for Byram Hills (11-8), which should be an epic rematch (Hen hud won the first game).

“We will see their number one and it’s going to be a big challenge, but the guys are ready for it.” Hen Hud skipper Van Vourliotis said. “We cranked up our pitching machine today from 45 feet away, hopefully it helps for the speed we’re expecting to see. That’s an old Nate trick (former Coach Paul Natiale).

The winner would likely see No.1 PANAS if the Panthers (12-3) can get past No.9 Nanuet Monday. If Coach Anthony Fata’s Panthers can get their bats going behind their pitching and defense, Panas could hoist its first-ever sectional title plaque later this week. The heart of the Panas order has done damage all season, but the Panthers need to hit on all cylinders if they are going to win A-2 and then challenge for overall Class A supremacy.

CLASS B/C

PLEASANTVILLE scored both of their runs against CROTON (7-11) in its last-at-bat, doing so with a small-ball youth movement. Coach Iorio pulled out all the stops. Sophomore Will Lent squeezed home freshman Dermot McSpedon, who drove home the tying run earlier in the inning, before swiping second and moving to third on a sac bunt. Pleasantville (9-10) was set to visit No. 1 Bronxville last night.

No.5 VALHALLA made short work of No.12 Dobbs Ferry when Jake Sekinski pitched all six innings, allowed three hits and struck out eight to earn the win. Kori Prosperino had a double and three RBI and Danny Tammaro went 3 for 3. The Vikings were set to travel to No.4 Albertus Magnus last night.

No.7 WESTLAKE (9-9) eliminated No.10 PUTNAM VALLEY (7-12), 11-1, behind P Marc DeNunzio, who chucked a tidy two-hitter and sent eight Tigers seeking pine via K’s in five innings by mercy rule. DeNunzio, Anthony Arrichiello, Tommy Giaccone, Josh Gelman and Marco Petirilo all drove home two runs for reigning Class B champion Westlake, which was set to take on No.2 BRIARCLIFF (14-4) last night.

Tuckahoe nipped a rebuilding HADLANCE unit, 4-3, in the Class C semis.
