Stewart-Cousins to Make History as First Woman Senate Leader

By Pat Casey

Andrea Stewart-Cousins (D-Yonkers) is set to make New York history as the first woman to lead the state senate after a vote by the Democratic Conference on Monday secured her position as Senate Majority Leader, beginning in January 2019.

Representing District 35, Stewart-Cousins was first elected to the State Senate in 2006 and currently represents Greenburgh, part of White Plains, part of New Rochelle, part of Yonkers and Scarsdale.

She has served as state Senate Minority Leader since 2012.

Olivia J. Hooker, of Greenburgh, the first African-American woman to have entered the U.S. Coast Guard, which she did in Feb. 1945, died peacefully in her home on Nov. 21. She was 103.

Dr. Hooker was born in Muskogee, Oklahoma, on Feb.12, 1915. During the infamous Tulsa race riots of 1921, Ku Klux Klan members ransacked her home while she hid under a table with her three siblings. She was only six years old at the time. Hooker later was a founder of the Tulsa Race Riot Commission in hopes of demanding reparations for the riot's survivors.

In 2003, she was among survivors of the riot to file an unsuccessful federal lawsuit seeking reparations. She was the last known survivor of the riots.

After the riots, Dr. Hooker's family moved to Columbus, Ohio, where she earned her Bachelor of Arts in 1937 from The Ohio State University. While at OSU, she joined the Delta Sigma Theta sorority where she advocated for African-American women to be admitted to the

She would go on to become the first African-American woman to enlist in the United States Coast Guard. Today, a Coast Guard Training Center in Washington D.C. is named in her honor.

She moved to New York after her service.

In 1947, she received her Masters from the Teachers College of Columbia University. In 1961, Dr. Hooker received her PhD in psychology from the University of Rochester. She later became a psychologist and a professor at Fordham University.

She was referred to by many as a national treasure.

In Tulsa, Oklahoma, on the day of her death, Dr. Hooker was remembered by many throughout the local community.

Pastor Turner of Vernon A.M.E. Church, said in a News 6 story: "She's a champion. She had an undying spirit that her good will toward her neighbor was not even quenched by the terrible incident in 1921"

Developer Claims Tariffs Against China Causing Construction Cost Increases

At the November White Plains Planning Board meeting, representatives of the Westmoreland Lofts development project at 146 Westmoreland Ave., White Plains, asked the Board for help in convincing the Common Council to extend its Site Plan approval for one year.

David Steinmetz of the law office of Zarin and Steinmetz, attorneys representing the developer, said nothing had changed with regard to the project design.

When asked when construction would begin or if there was any activity on the project, the developer explained that the team has been working together for over two years to pull the plan together. "The design is complete, but until we can make the economics of the project work, we are not going to start construction," he said.

Steinmetz explained that in White Plains as well as all over Westchester, construction costs have increased.

Steinmetz said he has clients who claim the newly imposed U.S. tariffs against China have majorly impacted the construction industry and the entire development community, from countertops to windows.

"There are a tremendous amount of materials that are imported from China causing many people to re-pencil their proformas," Steinmetz said.

Steinmetz added that the developer of the Westmoreland project, which is in the new Light Industrial Multi-use zone in White Plains, is bullish on the new zone and wants to make the project work. The problem is a mismatch between costs and revenues.

The White Plains Council has been very vocal of late about taking a tough stance on projects asking for extensions. The number of projects approved and then left unfinished when the money runs out and development stops, leaving large and unsightly "holes" around the city has become a problem. The Council has pretty much said it wants projects to commence the Coast Guard Auxiliary," said Admiral Karl Schultz the Commandant of the U.S. Coast Guard in the same news story.

Dr. Hooker was inducted into the American Women of Heritage Spirit of Women Archives in Greenburgh in 2015. And the Greenburgh Town Board honored her with a ceremonial street naming.

"Olivia was loved in Greenburgh and contributed to our community," said Town Supervisor Paul Feiner. "She always had time for everyone, whether it was the President of the United States or children interviewing her for a project about her life. Olivia was very nice and modest. And frequently called about town related issues that concerned her. She will be missed."

In a statement, State Democratic Leader Andrea Stewart-Cousins said: "As the last survivor of the Tulsa Race Riot, Dr. Olivia Hooker was a witness to one of the worst race-based massacres in our nation's history. ... She worked tirelessly to pursue justice for the victims of the Tulsa Race Riot and to speak out against hate and violence. ... I was proud to have her as a constituent and a friend. Her life should be an inspiration to all Americans and an example of what can be accomplished when we confront hatred and bigotry."

Dr. Hooker was inducted into the New York State Veterans Hall of Fame in 2012 and was honored on her 100th Birthday with a Senate Resolution."

Other honors Dr. Hooker received during her life include the American Psychological Association Presidential Citation in 2011.

On Feb. 9, 2015, Senator Kirsten Gillibrand spoke in Congress to "pay tribute" to Dr. Hooker.

On May 20, 2015, President Barack Obama recognized Dr. Hooker's Coast Guard service and legacy while in attendance at the 134th Commencement of the United States Coast Guard build a stronger, fairer, more prosperous state."

"There are many issues that have been ignored and blocked for too long in the State Senate, and thanks to the overwhelming support of New York voters, a new day has dawned."

"This January, we will make history together and finally give New York voters the progressive, responsive government they have demanded."

Congratulating Stewart-Cousins with a message on Twitter, Gov. Andrew Cuomo

"Congratulations to Andrea Stewart-Cousins on her election to be leader of the Senate majority and the first African-American woman to lead a majority conference in NY history. Today more than ever, we need leaders like her to forge the path ahead. I look forward to working with her."

The full Senate will vote on their majority leader in January 2019.

BOL Approves New Protections for Co-op Buyers

Last week, the Westchester County Board of Legislators passed a bipartisan measure that will create new rules for the sale of co-op apartments in the county.

The new rules are designed to make the process faster for buyers and sellers, and to help combat discrimination.

Under the new legislation, the boards of cooperatives – which approve the sale of individual units – will have 15 days to tell buyers whether or not their applications for purchase are complete. Once an application is deemed complete, boards will have 60 days to accept or reject the application. If an application is rejected, the co-op board must send a notice of the rejection to the county's Human Rights Commission, which has the power to investigate instances of discrimination under the Westchester's Fair Housing Law.

The measure, which follows months of discussions at committee meetings with buyers, sellers, realtors and representatives of co-op boards, passed by a 13-4 vote.

"Although requiring co-ops to give buyers written reasons when they've been denied would have been great, the measure we passed is an important first step in making the co-op sales process more timely and transparent," said Legislator Catherine Borgia (D-Ossining). "We expect the process to be faster and smoother going forward, and we expect the Human Rights Commission to be diligent in looking at the rejection data to make sure all Westchester residents are treated equally when it comes to co-op housing."

Chairman Ben Boykin (D-White Plains) said the legislation was developed over a long period of time with a lot of community input.

'I'm proud to say that working together, listening to the concerns of everyone involved – co-op boards, co-op owners, co-op buyers, and realtors – we've crafted a measure that improves the process and fights discrimination."

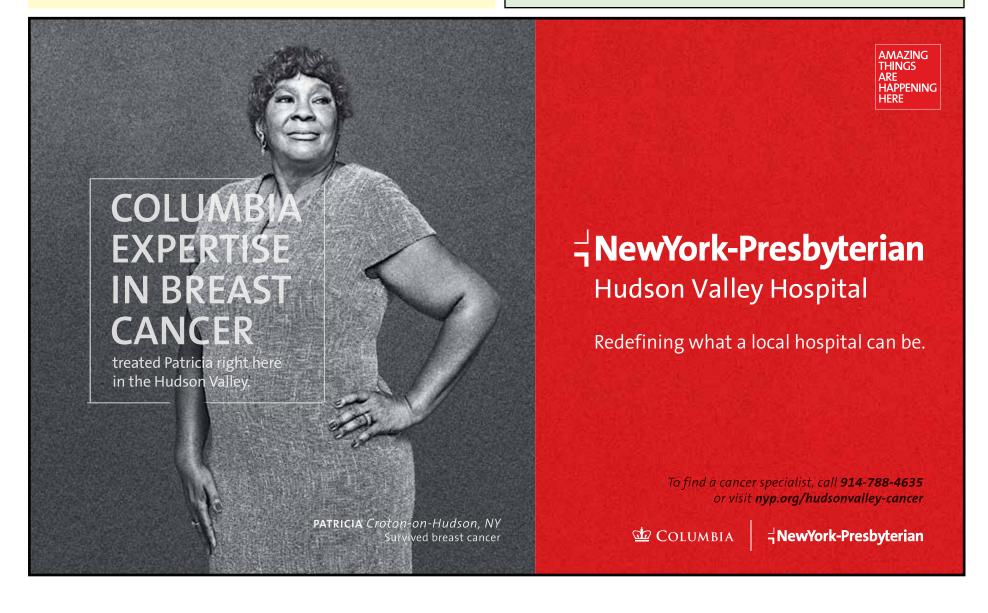

County Executive George Latimer issued a statement that he was pleased with the bill and intends to sign it into law immediately.

Landmark Mosaic Bench Unveiled at Jack Harrington Greenway

On Nov. 5 the City of White Plains unveiled the Jack Harrington Mosaic Bench at the entrance to the Jack Harrington Greenway. The park bench is one of two donated to White Plains. The other bench will be located at the Bryant-Mamaroneck Park. Both will become permanent landmarks in White Plains. The project was a partnership between children from the Family Coachman Center in White Plains and the Clay Arts Center in Port Chester, the work of creating the mosaic done at the Clay Arts Center's satellite studio at ArtsWestchester in downtown White Plains. Kelly O'Sullivan, with the Clay Arts Center, explained during the unveiling ceremony that the tile work on the bench became a metaphor for the children from the homeless shelter working with the tiles. There are many animals portrayed in the mosaic, with a fox featured prominently. As they worked, the children thought about and discussed the trials and tribulations a young fox cub would go through during the seasons. O'Sullivan also said the many tiles in the mosaic do not create an image on their own, but form the art when viewed together, reflecting partnership.

BOL Approves New Home Contractor Licensing Rules

The Westchester County Board of Legislators, last week, approved changes to the county's law governing the licensing of home improvement contractors to strengthen protections for workers.

The new provisions, passed unanimously, explicitly require the county to consider judgments against contractors for non-payment or underpayment of employees when examining new license applications and license renewals. Applicants also will be required to disclose any business-related judgments against them, particularly those involving non-payment or underpayment.

Legislator Nancy Barr (D - Harrison), lead sponsor of the bill, said, "Although most licensed contractors are responsible and pay their employees appropriately, there are some unscrupulous individuals who take advantage of their employees, illegally denying them the wages they have earned. This legislation will help weed out unethical contractors and ensure that local workers are getting paid what they are due so that they can support themselves and their families. And homeowners will have peace of mind knowing that the contractors they hire are reputable and treating their employees fairly."

More than a million dollars a year are recovered for thousands of workers in the Hudson Valley who have suffered from so-called "wage theft" under complaint proceedings with the New York State Department of Labor.

The changes also include new protections for consumers, requiring more disclosure about specific proposed work in writing in home improvement contracts, and adding underground sprinkler systems and interior painting to the list activities considered to be "home improvements" under the law.

In addition, the new provisions raise the fee contractors pay for two-year licenses from $300 to $400 on January 1, 2019, and from $400 to $500 on January 1, 2021. The increased fees will help pay for stepped-up enforcement against unlicensed contractors.

The developer said the plot is underdeveloped significantly and that is part of the financial issue. He explained that the reason it is underbuilt is because it was "overparked" to get the approvals. "Relative to the commerciality of the project it is overparked," he said. "You can't dig in this area, so you have to do above grade parking."

Sixty-two residential units are not enough units to make the project work nicely, yet, he said.

If the extension is denied, the developer will likely come back with a much denser project.

Board members agreed to support the request for a Site Plan extension of one year.

How to Guard Against Burst Water Pipes in Winter

Every year just before the holidays, I receive that trusty call from Dave Goldberg, my retired plumber who served my plumbing needs for close to 50 years. He reminds me to advise readers to disconnect their garden hoses from the outdoor spigot. If not, mayhem may follow.

Other than a fire or tornado, the most damaging event a house can suffer is flooding from a burst water pipe. Yet most people have just a sketchy knowledge of how to avoid this potential disaster.

One of my most memorable mishaps with burst pipes involved a young couple who had found the home of their dreams and wanted to close as quickly as possible because the lease on their rental was about to expire. But their dream was dashed, at least temporarily, by a discovery we made when we arrived at the house for the engineering inspection.

We were greeted by an ominous sound of water leaking and discovered in the family room that water was spraying through the seams of the plasterboard walls and half of the ceiling had collapsed. The engineer quickly shut off the water main, but it was too late to prevent the extensive damage to the walls, ceiling, built-in cabinetry and flooring.

As an estate sale, the house was empty but the selling agent had been very careful to monitor the heating system so that the pipes wouldn't freeze. She couldn't understand what went wrong. The engineer looked around and found that the garden house had not been disconnected from the outside spigot. He explained that water in the hose had frozen and backed up into the pipe that traveled through the garage, which was unheated, to the family room on the other side of the garage wall, causing the pipes to burst. When the ice melted, the room was flooded.

When water freezes, it has the force of 2,200 pounds of pressure per square inch, Goldberg said.

"One of the most common causes of burst pipes is when people forget to detach their hoses for the winter," he said. "It should always be done by mid-October."

There are many reasons why pipes can burst, Goldberg said. There could be a draft through a tiny crack in a wall. If it is cold enough outside, the wind chill factor can cause a pipe to freeze and it can be anywhere in the house.

For snowbirds who leave their houses for warmer climes, Goldberg said even if a house is winterized, it can be done incorrectly.

By Bill Primavera

"When people summer houses up here and would close them for the winter, it was easier to drain the pipes because the plumbing was designed for that," he said. "Now, with modern construction, pipes wind around beams and go up and down, and there are many elbows that can trap water. If just a drop of water is left in the elbow and it freezes, the pipe can burst."

Goldberg said the best way to avoid this problem is to have the pipes blown out with an air compressor.

'Things can go wrong even if a house isn't abandoned," he said. "If a family takes a winter vacation, for instance, it's not enough precaution just to leave the heat on. Suppose there is a power failure or the supply of fuel runs out?"

Goldberg cited the popular use of wood and gas-burning stoves as another cause of burst pipes because it gives a false sense of warmth. It may be 70 degrees inside, but if the heat doesn't reach the outside walls where the pipes are located, problems may ensue.

As a safeguard, he recommended that nontoxic antifreeze be added to the heating system so that if the power goes off, the water won't freeze.

"It's like putting antifreeze in a car," Goldberg said, "and it should be checked annually to see that it's still at an effective level."

For insulating pipes in the basement or crawl space, he suggested using a heating strip that turns on automatically like a thermostat, and then to wrap both the pipe and heating strip with insulation.

Another safeguard in frigid weather is to keep water running, both the hot and cold taps where the pipes are against an outside wall. I'm familiar with this technique because when my wife and I lived in an old house, which was somewhat drafty, we would keep the water dripping in the mudroom half-bath that was exposed on two sides by outside walls.

"Remember to keep the water dripping," she always said. I'd usually respond, "I know, I know, you already told me." I would get myself into trouble by turning the faucet off anyway, just by force of habit.

But seeing the damage that a burst pipe can do, I didn't mind the occasional admonishment.

Our Virtual Tour of Modern Spain and its Wines Continues

You Heard It

Through the

By Nick Antonaccio

For the past few columns I've been focusing on my renewed infatuation, and building appreciation, for the wines coming into the United States from Spain.

I recently attended a celebration of the wine, food and design of all things Spanish, sponsored by the Wines From Spain trade organization. I enjoyed new (for me) wines in the walk-around session and expanded my knowledge of regions, terroirs and producers in several seminar settings. Repeatedly, I was impressed with the quality – and value – of so many of the wines now arriving on our shores.

From conversations with winemakers I deduced that a number of old-line traditional producers are reaching out to producers in other wine-producing countries in order to learn new techniques for the vineyard and the winery.

But I was most impressed with the younger generation, who have stepped into the mud- and wine-stained shoes of their parents to manage family-run wineries in existence for three, four, sometimes five generations. They are expanding their knowledge through formal wine education and by utilizing modern technology. Much of this is attributable to the formation of the European Union.

and cooperative communication, Spain has emerged from a poor, economically challenged country (notwithstanding the continuing impact of the Great Recession) into an influential economic force. In turn, wine production and, by extension, wine consumers, have benefited greatly.

With this as backdrop, I decided to reprise a series I penned more than 10 years ago on these pages.

There are many Spanish wines available, but many are represented by small wineries, or small importers or small distributors. Therefore, a number of my favorites may not be available in your local wine shop. Fear not. With this virtual tour series as a reference, you will be able to find fine representations from each featured region. And when you do, let me know; I'm always seeking new experiences and my next favorite wine.

On to our virtual tour.

Long stretches of white sand beach, historic towns emblematic of local seafarers, unique cultural architecture, modern cities with sophisticated nightlife and fabulous local wines not readily available elsewhere.

Does this sound like the French Riviera?

ATTORNEY ADVERTISING

Through generous financial funding The Italian Riviera? Provence? California's Central Coast? Yes, it does - and the Spanish Mediterranean Coast.

This week's virtual tour takes us along Spain's eastern coast, beginning in the south along the Playa del Sol beaches, northward through the port city of > Alicante, the sophisticated culture and architecture of Valencia, the rich history and architecture of Barcelona and the popular beaches along the Costa Brava in the northern extreme of the region, at the foothills of the Pyrenees. This vast stretch has something for everyone, including seekers of unique wines previously unavailable to American consumers.

The Mediterranean Coast wine region encompasses the largest number of Spain's official wine regions - 13 of the 69 classifications. We will be exploring the wines of four major areas: Alicante, Jumilla, Valencia, Priorat/Monstant and Penedès.

Our tour this week takes us to the southeastern port cities of Alicante and Valencia. Although separated by hundreds of miles of idyllic coastline, they share the same commercialized wine-production history. Since the 19th century these sister cities were known for mass production wines exported to the rest of Europe for bottlings of cheap, nondescript wines similar to the California bulk wine business. (Think Carlo Rossi in the 1960s, still vibrant into the 21st century.)

In the 1990s the local producers decided to experiment with grapes that might be suitable to the local terroir sandy to clay-like soil, temperate climate and cooling sea breezes. The result: newly introduced artisanal wines from Monastrell, Garnacha and Moscatel grapes, with a smattering of Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon. Although not yet as popular as wines from other regions, there are quite a few worth seeking out.

As we continue our virtual tour through the Mediterranean Coast, our next stops will explore the Spanish wine regions garnering high praise in the United States.

By Morris Gut

The glittering annual Holiday Train Show is on track through Jan. 21, 2019 at the beautiful New York Botanical Garden in the Bronx. It's a real seasonal treat, a must for the young and the young at heart. I look forward to visiting NYBG, walking through the beautifully restored Enid Haupt Conservatory and seeing the seductive floral arrangements and dramatic plantings. (For additional info and tickets: www.nybg.org.) After taking in all that beauty, we do get hungry. Here are easy-to-reach suggestions.

Pelham Pizzeria, 113 Fifth Ave., Pelham, 914-738-7554. You can debate about your favorite pizza joints: Louie & Ernie's, Bronx; Sal's, Mamaroneck; Johnny's, Mt. Vernon; Cole's, Bronxville; even Frank Pepe's in New Haven. I submit, Pelham Pizzeria is right up there with the best of them! One of the most popular pizza shops in the area, Pelham Pizzeria & Ristorante, has been marking a 40th Anniversary in bustling Pelham, with a classic Italian-American menu and firstrate pizza specialties. Options run the gamut of popular dishes at reasonable prices for eat-in or take-out: Hot Appetizers, Soups, fresh crisp Salads, Hot & Cold Wedges, Pastas, Lunch and Dinner Entrees, and of course, Specialty Pizzas galore. Ernie's Wine Bar, 7 Pondfield Road, Bronxville, 914-652-7859. I have been impressed with the great food, fine wines and hospitality I have encountered at cozy Ernie's Wine Bar & Eats in Bronxville. Out of Ernie's tiny kitchen come laudatory renditions of American/Global dishes bursting with flavor. Oenophiles, take note. The carefully selected wines served here, many from small-batch independent producers, can be heavenly. It is a wonderful place to unwind, take in some music on special nights, and indulge. The small bar is great for networking, too. Recent food tastings here have included Luisanna's amazing meatballs, cheese and charcuterie platter, Duck Wontons, Duck Confit, a wonderful Fettuccine Carbonara; Mushroom and Pea Risotto, and Baked Cod with Vierge Sauce. Amiable Joe Migliucci, the current patriarch, is there with his wife Barbara, daughter Regina and sons Michael and Mario. Joe's mom, Mama Rose Migliucci, was considered to be 'the first lady of Arthur Ave.' This restaurant has a long 99-year history full of colorful chapters. For starters enjoy the palate pleasing lagniappe of marinated carrots, hot peppers and good crusty Arthur Ave. bread. Great appetizers include: Spiedini alla Romana, skewered deepfried mozzarella sandwiches; Stuffed Artichoke; or the Pulpo Salad. Move on to such specialties as: Penne Rustica with sausage; stuffed Braciola Napolitana; Osso Buco the size of Mt. Vesuvious; or the traditional Tripe a la Livornese. Entertainment schedule. Open 7 days. Bronx Beer Hall, 2344 Arthur Ave., Bronx 1-347-396-0555, www.bronxbeerhall.com.

Starr Holiday Dining at NYBG. Ever since restaurant rock star Stephen Starr took over the food service concessions at NYBG, hungry visitors have been taking note. Starr made a big name for himself in Philadelphia where he owns several powerhouse restaurants including his retro: Continental. He is also represented in Atlantic City at Buddakan, and in Washington, D.C. at the hot new Le Diplomate, where we enjoyed a wonderful French brasserie brunch recently. He has premiered themed Dining Pavilions throughout the park and near the Enid Haupt Pavilion: the casual Pine Tree Café and Hudson Garden Grill. Open daily. Stepinac Crushes St. Francis, 49-7, to Defend CHSAA NYS Football Title

By Albert Coqueran

The Stepinac High School Football Team's Coaching staff led family, fans and supporters in a rendition of the Queen song "We are Champions" at Dunnes Pub, after beating St. Francis High School, 49-7, to capture their third CHSAA New York State Football Championship in four years at Stepinac on Saturday.

After starting the season 1-4, the Crusaders won their second consecutive Catholic High School New York State Football Championship. The Crusaders ran-off seven straight wins including beating Iona Prep in the CHSFL AAA Semifinals and defeating Cardinal Hayes High School in the CHSFL AAA Championship to advance to the NYS Title Game.

"It feels good with all the adversity we went through at the beginning of the season; it just feels good," celebrated senior wide receiver Shawn Harris.

The Monsignor Martin Conference

Stepinac Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Mike O'Donnell takes a moment to celebrate with his wife Carla, after the Crusaders won their second consecutive CHSAA NYS Football Championship at Stepinac on Saturday.

Crusaders wide receiver Quentin McCauley makes an over-the-shoulder catch for a 33-yard touchdown reception from Joey Carino in the second quarter for one of his two touchdown receptions in the NYS Championship win. McCauley only a junior will certainly be an impact player for the Crusaders next season.

Champion Red Raiders from Buffalo proved no-match for the Crusaders offense or defense. Stepinac scored six touchdowns and sacked St. Francis quarterback Jake Ritts nine times in the first half.

At 10:14 of the first quarter when Crusaders linebacker Kevin McKenna blocked a Red Raiders punt and cornerback Mekhi Green recovered and ran it for a 20-yard touchdown; it was a sign of things to come in the Championship game.

Stepinac quarterback Joey Carino bootlegged around right-end for a 5-yard Henderson, who converted on all seven Football Champions!

TD. Carino also hit "Big Play" Harris twice with 52-yard and 62-yard touchdown passes in the first half. Carino also hit junior wide receiver Quentin McCauley, a player you will see a lot of next season, with a 33-yard touchdown strike in the first half.

When running back Malik "Workhorse" Grant ran eight yards and plowed his way into the end zone to end the first half, the game was all but over with Stepinac leading 42-7.

Carino threw 301 yards and four touchdowns, while hitting McCauley again in the fourth quarter for a TD. The junior quarterback also ran for one touchdown. Harris, who is on his way to Stoney Brook University, had nine receptions for 205 yards and two touchdowns. Grant put his work in as usual while carrying 17 times for 124 yards and a touchdown.

The Stepinac defense stymied Red Raiders quarterback Ritts at a rate of 12 sacks in the game. Senior defensive end Joe Garbowski led the attack with five sacks and on the other end Dougie Simmons complemented him with three

Also, let's not forget Place Kicker Nate

There he goes again slipping into the end zone this season, as Crusaders wide receiver Shawn "Big Play" Harris caught a pass from QB Joey Carino and scampered 52 yards for a touchdown in the Crusaders, 49-7 win over St. Francis to capture the 2018 CHSAA NYS Football Title.

extra-point attempts. "When we were 1-4 people were throwing dirt on our coffin. For these players to show so much resiliency and work so hard to come back and win the State Title; it is a great day at Stepinac," stated O'Donnell, completing his 31st year as Head Coach of the Crusaders.

The Fourth Annual Guy Mathews Thanksgiving Hockey Invitational

White Plains High School invited 10 teams to participate in this year's Fourth Annual Guy Mathews Thanksgiving Hockey Invitational. The spectacular holiday hockey classic held each year at Ebersole Ice Rink is in memory of the late Guy Mathews, who was a longtime, Hockey Coach and Guidance Counselor at WPHS.

'Guy (Mathews), not only to me but to everybody in White Plains, he was White Plains hockey. He was here before me and a man I could lean on and a friend. He also sent many students from WPHS to college, as their Guidance Counselor," acknowledged White Plains Hockey Head Coach Howie Rubenstein, who organizes the event each year with the assistance of his staff and parents of his players.

The main event dubbed the "Frozen Turkey Bowl" was between City of White Plains rivals Stepinac High

It got a little dicey in front of the net in the third period of the "Frozen Turkey Bowl" as Stepinac Goalie Chris Spano (#38) blocks Tigers John Myers' shot on goal. However, Myers slipped three past Spano for the "hat trick" as White Plains beat Stepinac, 6-4, in the Fourth Annual Guy Mathews Thanksgiving Hockey Invitational.

School and WPHS. The game itself was back-and-forth classic only separated by a power-play goal by Tigers freshman Dante Palombo to break a 4-4 tie at 3:16 of the third period. Palombo also scored on a break-away open netter with 11 seconds left to give the Tigers stickers the win, 6-4.

Tigers forward and team captain John Myers was presented the MVP Award of the 2018 Guy Mathews Hockey Invitational. Myers scored three goals and brought the hats to the ice with the "hat trick!"

Westchester Knicks Corral the Wisconsin Herd in Historical Win

By Albert Coqueran

There should be a rule specified in basketball at any level: if one team is leading by more than 50 points at any point of the game, the game should be ruled a complete game and ended. Sort of like the Mercy Rule in high school baseball and softball.

I understand that fans have paid to view a four-quarter contest but anyone watching the Westchester Knicks dismantle the lowly Wisconsin Herd at the Westchester County Center on Friday might agree with my aforementioned proposal.

The Westchester Knicks set a franchise record for margin of victory when they demolished the Herd by 56 points, 131-75. The game was great for the local Knicks, the NBA Gatorade League affiliate of the NY Knicks, whose purpose is to develop talent. However, it sure was not a pleasant fourth quarter to witness, especially for the Herd.

The G League Knicks led by as much as 61 points in the fourth quarter and had eight players in double figures at the conclusion of the game. The local Knicks shot 56.5 % from the field. They made 48-of-85 field goals in the game. The Herd took 86 shots, which was one more than the Knicks, but made only 24 of those shots for a 30% average. Talk about the ball not falling. But there was also a lot of good defense by the upstart Knicks.

"I thought we stuck together and played the way we wanted to play. And we were able to sustain it," commented Westchester Knicks Head Coach Mike Miller.

Center Luke Kornet has been burning up the County Center court since being assigned from the NY Knicks to Westchester on Nov. 5. The 7'0" center is averaging 19.3 points, 8.7 rebounds and 3.4 assists a game since being assigned to G League affiliate by the NY Knicks.

Kornet shot 8-of-14 from the field and made 5-of-7 three pointers, while totaling 25 points in the historical blow-out of the Herd. "Luke has really improved his overall game. In this game he is shooting and creating offense for others as well. His real ability is that he makes players around him better; he helps your team play better," said Miller

New Orleans Pelicans Flex-Assignee Kenrich Williams, while playing in his first game at the County Center, scored a double-double of 15 points and 13 rebounds. Also, scoring in double figures in the Westchester Knicks historical victory was Billy Garrett, 17 points, Gyorgy Goloman 14, Trevon Bluett 13, Paul Watson 12, Kadeem Allen 11 and Stephen Zimmerman 10 points.

When the Herd returned the next day to complete the back-to-back on Saturday, their focus was definitely to stampede the locals and retain some respect at the County Center. Wisconsin (1-8) fared better but lost again to the local Knicks, 105-91. But at least this time they only lost by 14 points rather than the 56-point historical deficit the prior evening.

The Westchester Knicks (8-3) have progressed to first place in the Eastern Conference after winning 3-of-4 games of their present five-game homestand. The Windy City Bulls, the NBA G League affiliate of the Chicago Bulls, will visit the Westchester County Center, on Tuesday, Nov. 27, at 7 p.m. to complete the five-game homestand.

The Westchester Knicks will return to the County Center after a two-game road trip to challenge the South Bay Lakers, the NBA G League affiliate of the Los Angeles Lakers, on Wednesday, Dec. 5, at 7 p.m.

The NY Knicks Are Finishing Games - Win Three Straight

By Albert Coqueran

NY Knicks center Enes Kanter (pictured practicing his craft at the MSG Training Facility in Tarrytown), secured a remarkable doubledouble of 26 rebounds and 21 points as the Knicks beat the Memphis Grizzles, 103-98, in Memphis.

The game marked the first time Knicks Head Coach David Fizdale returned to Memphis since he was fired by the Grizzlies a year ago. Fizdale's gift that evening from his newly led team was not merely the victory against his former team; it was the spirted and resilient manner the Knicks held on for the win.

The Knicks were losing at the half, 52-43, but outscored the Grizzlies, 35-19, in the third quarter to take the lead 78-71. With the Grizzlies coming back only down by four points, 99-95 with 20 seconds left in the game. The Knicks newly found solution to finishing games surfaced, and they held on to win one for their new Head Coach.

The NY Knicks have improved their record to 7-14 by winning three straight games as of Sunday, Nov. 25. As emphasized in my story last week, the Knicks needed to quickly improve regarding finishing games. They certainly have shown progress during the three straight wins.

On Nov. 21, after leading the Boston Celtics by 16 points at the half, the Celtics closed the gap to three points late in the fourth quarter. But a huge three-pointer by Trey Burke with 13 seconds left helped the Knicks finish with a win.

The Knicks also sustained an 18-6 run in the fourth quarter to beat the New Orleans Pelicans, at the MSG, on Friday. "The thing I am most happy with is the way we are taking punches and keep coming and we are figuring out ways to win games now," said Fizdale.

-Albert Coqueran
